JOTTINGS HERE AND THERE

C. H. Baker has bought five acres on Highland avenue, west of the residence of J. Krafts, where he will soon begin the building of a home which will cost in the neighborhood of $7000.

Where is the man who said this was going to be a dry year?

Maple Grove Butter, the most delicious, put up in a clean, sanitary package. Sold only by the Sierra Madre Grocer Co.

The snow is reported four feet deep along the crest of the mountains above the Sturtevant Trail.

Among a number of Los Angeles people who braved the rain last Sunday afternoon to visit the studio of Mrs. E. Borglum were Mrs. Horlacker and her daughter, Miss Leta Horlacker, the water color and china painter of New York City, and Mrs. Duane.

For chapped hands or face use "Mentholated Hazeline." There is nothing better for rough or irritated skin. W. E. Bechtelheimer, Druggist.

School has begun again. M. Olsen has school shoes, good and strong, to stand the wear and tear. Examine his stock. A good pair of stockings goes with every pair of school shoes.

Miss Jessie McPhail has been spending a few days with friends at Venice.

The Ladies' Musical Club held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. C. H. Baker on last Friday afternoon.

A wild cat has been waxing fat on fowls stolen from J. H. Wright during the last several weeks, but yesterday morning he met his fate when a big beaver trap snapped on one of his hind legs. Mr. Wright found him thus, but the animal was still full of fight and a rather ugly customer. Finally after repeated efforts, he was dispatched by young Wm. Wright by a rifle shot.

Coal, coal, and still the cry goes up for coal. We are better off than Los Angeles folks, but still we'd like some fuel out here in Sierra Madre.

A. W. Miller of Compton has bought, through Roth & Seely, the Hossack property on Central avenue, and the house is being wired for electricity and will be occupied soon.

Get a bottle of "Mentholated Hazeline" if your face or hands get dry and rough. It softens and keeps the skin perfectly smooth. W. E. Bechtelheimer, Druggist.

M. L. Roth has been confined to his home for some days with an attack of gripe.

Dill pickles! They're mighty nice. Put this down for your next order from the Sierra Madre Grocer Co.

Mrs. Wm. Frew of Compton has been the guest of Mrs. Heane.

Will Clement of Los Angeles has been here looking after his interests.

S. R. G. Twycross reports the sale of a lot in the Angel Tract to Mrs. Ella M. Patterson.

W. E. Bechtelheimer has been appointed agent for Adams, Turner & Stevens Co., Undertakers, of Pasadena. All calls answered promptly, and best attendance guaranteed.

On Sunday last, nineteen persons were received by letter into the membership of the Congregational Church. This is the largest number of additions ever made to this church at one communion.

Richelieu Vulcan Coffee, guaranteed equal to any coffee on the Coast, 30 cents per pound. Sierra Madre Grocer Co., sole agents.

N. W. Tarr has bought of Geo. H. Clark, through Mr. Twycross, the recently completed residence on Grandin street.

Mrs. Laura H. Stevenson, teacher of piano, will give individual instruction at her studio on Laura avenue, at hours to suit pupils.

The reports presented at the annual meeting of the Congregational Church were full of encouragement. All bills for the year, including about five hundred dollars for improvements, have been paid. An adjourned meeting is to be held this evening for the reception of new members and for the election of officers for the coming year.

Mrs. Sanger, of Los Angeles, has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. J. R. Bransby.

Miss Gladys Humphries visited her parents last Sunday.

Mrs. Eleanor Woodger is preparing to build a bungalow on her property at the head of Auburn avenue.

A. H. Jorgensen has engaged in business in Los Angeles.

A merry group of boys were the guests of W. S. Andrews at a turkey dinner one night recently. The party was composed of Max and Wayne Thornburg, Charles Camp, Charles Clark, Earl Kraft, Ralph Criswell, Roydon Pool, Raymond Andrews, and Edwin Melvin, of Sierra Madre, and Sherman Andrews of Los Angeles.

A NOVEL TRAIN

Among notable arrivals in Los Angeles Monday was the most unique train that ever created curiosity along a railroad track. It consisted of eighteen street cars which rolled into the Southern Pacific yards on their own running gear, hauled by a big, fast engine.

The cars came all the way from St. Louis, traveling gaily over the rails to the astonishment and delight of agriculturists and depot loungers along the Southern Pacific. It was the first time a flock of street cars ever made up a special train on a steam road.

The consignment is for the Pacific Electric Railway Company of Los Angeles. The eighteen cars, built for standard gauge, were shipped as a special instead of being packed upon rumbling freight cars. The journey was made in much faster time than by the old method.

The Huntington companies, having made the successful test, hereafter will ship all standard-gauge cars from the manufacturing plants to this city on their own running gear. The eighteen cars are equal in every respect to the modern cars now in interurban use on the Pacific Electric system. They are improved in minor respects. Instead of lattice-work on the sides of the open ends, the cars are paneled solidly as high as the elbow rests, in order to protect the limbs of passengers from cold breezes. The curtains are made to fasten to the rails, thereby affording complete protection during wet weather.

The cars will be equipped electrically in the local shops, and within two or three weeks, will be apportioned to the branches needing additional equipment.

INCORPORATION PROCEEDINGS

On Tuesday the matter of incorporation came up before the Board of Supervisors. Capt. Os-good and Mr. Hosmer, who took the census, reported the number of Sierra Madre folks as close to nine hundred.

Two new members having taken their seats on the board and one of the old members not having been out here to view the ground, it was decided to come out the next day and look the matter over, and Monday, the 14th, was set as the date for final hearing.

Yesterday, in spite of the rain, the supervisors came out and inspected maps, etc., although the weather would not permit them to take in the town as they had intended.

DAMAGE TO MT. WILSON ROAD

The recent storm has done untold damage to the new automobile trail up Mt. Wilson. Parties who have made the trip on foot in the last few days report that in many places the wide roadway has been totally obliterated by the landslides. Where the most expensive work has been necessary in the widening of the trail whole sections of rock wall and soil have been carried away and tumbled down the mountain side. One man who made the climb over the trail was afraid to return the same way, or to give up the trip after he had gone a few miles upwards because of the tottering, slippery character of the track.

This precludes the possibility of reaching the solar observatory this winter with the great automobile truck with its load of machinery so badly needed there. With the coming of spring, however, the trail will be repaired, and it is believed that it can be made absolutely safe for heavy travel.

A NEW BUSINESS FIRM

C. M. Clark, J. J. Graham and L. L. Clark have formed a copartnership and have engaged in the fuel and feed business, opening in the warehouse on Lima street. The new firm will be known as the Sierra Madre Fuel & Feed Company. They are fully prepared now to meet all wants in the feed line, but their consignments of fuel have not arrived yet. They expect to be able to supply fuel very soon, however.

A town that never has anything to do in a public way, is on the way to the cemetery. Any citizen who will do nothing for his town is helping to dig the grave. A man that curses the town furnishes the coffin. The man who is so selfish as to have no time from his business to give to local affairs is making the shroud. The man who will not advertise is driving the hearse. The man who is always pulling back from any public enterprise throws bouquets upon the grave. The man who is so stingy as to be howling hard times, preaches the funeral, sings the doxology, and thus the town lies buried from all sorrow and care.—Republican News, Maren-go, Ill.

EDITORIAL

News gathering in the weather that we have had this week is not the snap it might be cracked up to be. This will account for the "shy" appearance of our sheet this week.

The recent storm ought to be a powerful argument in favor of incorporation. The storm waters that come racing down some of our streets at certain seasons will never be kept from doing mischief until there is some system used in the construction of gutters and curbs. As it is now, one man will construct in front of his property good and substantial protection from the storm waters, while his next neighbor leaves his property and the street in front without protection, or constructs a gutter totally inadequate to the needs, with the result that the efforts of those who are trying to make lasting improvements are largely unavailing. Until there is some means whereby the improvements can be made general, and of the proper kind we will have the same old story when the rains come.

The Arcadia correspondent writes in the El Monte Gazette: "Sierra Madre will walk off with our bacon if we do not bestir ourselves. Isn't there sufficient business here to support an Arcadia paper?"

Strange, isn't it, how other communities are sitting up and taking notice that Sierra Madre is on the map, since the News started?

A subscriber writes: "Monrovia by the development of 'Harmony' (with a big H) and the spending of a little money has forced that little town, not so well located as Sierra Madre, to the front. Also it might be added, and well added, Monrovia has voted to have no liquor sold in that town. Sierra Madre might well take a lesson from her neighboring rival."

THE UMBRELLA LANGUAGE

There is a language of umbrellas as of flowers. For instance, place your umbrella in a rack, and it will often indicate that it will change owners.

To open it quickly in the street means that somebody's eye is going to be in danger.

To shut it quickly signifies that a hat or two will probably be knocked off.

An umbrella carried over a woman, the man getting nothing but the drippings of the rain, signifies courtship.

When a man has the umbrella and the woman the drippings, it indicates marriage.

To punch your umbrella into a person, and then open it, means "I dislike you."

To swing your umbrella over your shoulder signifies "I am making a nuisance of myself."

To trail your umbrella along the footpath means that the man behind you is thirsting for your blood.

To carry it at right angles under your arm signifies that an eye is to be injured by the man who follows you. This is generally a woman's way of carrying her umbrella.

To open an umbrella quickly, it is said, will frighten a mad bull.

To put an alpaca umbrella beside a silk one signifies "Exchange is no robbery."

To purchase an umbrella indicates "I am not smart, but honest."

To lend an umbrella indicates

"I am a fool."

To return an umbrella means—well, never mind what it means; nobody ever does that.

To carry an umbrella in a case signifies it is a shabby one.

To press an umbrella on your friend, saying "Oh, do take it; I would much rather you would than not," signifies lying.

To give a friend half your umbrella means that both of you will get wet.

To carry it from home in the morning means "it will very likely be a fine day."

JOTTINGS HERE AND THERE

When patronizing advertisers, kindly mention that you "saw it in the News."

Dr. Harry Haas, of Mobile, Alabama, and Miss Marie Paine of Long Beach, spent Sunday with B. Andrews and family.

A. N. Adams has started building a residence for his daughter, Edith Adams, in the Sierra Madre Heights Tract.

Meek's genuine Butter Nut Bread, bread without the bleach, the Sierra Madre Grocer Co. is sole agent.

For chapped hands or face use "Mentholated Hazeline." There is nothing better for rough or irritated skin. W. E. Bechtelheimer, Druggist.

Mrs. Edith Whitworth has sold to F. R. Yerxa, through W. F. Hatfield, 400 feet frontage on Grand View avenue, and extending 205 feet back.

Order some of Heinze apple butter today from the Sierra Madre Grocer Co.

The Misses Florence and Lulu Bixby spent Sunday with S. R. G. Twycross and family.

Get a bottle of "Mentholated Hazeline" if your face or hands get dry and rough. It softens and keeps the skin perfectly smooth. W. E. Bechtelheimer, Druggist.

Hanging up notices in the post-office is an out-of-date method of advertising. If you want to buy or sell anything or have any want that you wish to make known to the townspeople, the proper method is through a liner in the News. The cost? Five cents per line for two insertions, minimum charge, 25 cents.

EDITORS

editors is the men that reads everything in the papers, magazines, etc. & tells the printers what to print.

editors is different from doctors beekaus doctors lern there trade in skool & the editors start at the bottom & work up inch by inch as the long years go by.

editors is moastly very nice men, but they never have much time to talk except to the oaner of the paper. If a reporter cums in & shows a editor a story, the editor just grunts & says Hello Goodby. if a poet cums in with a poem, the editor just says Goodby.

My Pa rote a poem once & went to show it to a editor & took me with him. the editor wass moaking a pipe and didn't look up Pa sed Pardon me I have rote a poem & the editor sed if you have rote a poem I can't pardon you, but my Pa wasent scared of him & sed I will reed it & he red:

I stood at Eve when the sun went down neer the grave where a woman lies wich lured men's souls to the deps of sin O Bridget, save them pies!

the editor looked at Pa a minuet & sed "23."

then when Pa didn't go he called a office boy & sed Show this gentleman the elevator.

when i grow up i would like to be a editor so i can smoak a pipe and say "23."—Los Angeles Examiner.

WRESTLING IN SCOTLAND.

The sports field at Grasmere lies at the foot of a characteristic ridge of fells, very narrow at the top and as steep nearly as the side of a house. As you sit in the grand stand this ridge rises up in front of you, says the London Standard.

On the bare, precipitous slopes of it the guides' race is run. On the verdant lawn on which the grand stand is placed the wrestling matches are held and those spectators who are not in the lawn. There are coaches and carriages, too, all around, on which people sit and watch and have picnic luncheons.

In Cumberland wrestling the fall is won directly a man is thrown to the ground. There is no need to pin the shoulders down as in the Graeco-Roman wrestling. Here at Grasmere all is ended just when the Graeco-Roman catch-as-catch-canners would be getting to the serious work. Were it not so the Grasmere sports would last all the year around. As it was several matches went on at the same time.

Many of the men had their tights embroidered with wonderful flowers or designs in silk or wool—the work of their women folk, who were now straining to get a glimpse of how the charm worked from the swaying ranks of people around the ground.

Boys wrestled; men with white hair, who had gained in experience what they had lost in elasticity, wrestled. The boys seemed to be young Orlandos temerarily trying to fall with the Charleses of the profession, and who knows that there was not some Rosalind who saw it all dimly from the crowd and was ready to say afterward, "Sir, you have wrestled well and overthrew more than your enemies."
